MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1864.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

The Convention.

Most of the delegates from this section of the State are now in town and will leave this morning for Albany. We presume that there will be a full attendance, and we sincerely hope that wise and harmonious counsels will prevail, so that no true friend of the Union may be justified in withholding his cordial and active endorsement of the measures adopted. Certainly there ought to be no strife, except in efforts to do the utmost in behalf of the patriotic and sacred cause, on which depends the integrity and prosperity of the nation and of every individual citizen. Such a strife would deserve admiration, but if in its place, there shall be a disposition to make and carry out schemes and bargains for the benefit of a clique, which already assumes to rule the Union organization, we fear that its effects may be mischievous and disastrous. We hope, therefore, if any such desire is manifested on the part of some who have managed to secure seats in the Convention, that the good sense of the majority will so distinctly and decidedly condemn it, as to save the Union party from being made the machine of aspiring persons, who seem to suppose that by adroit combinations, it can be forced to do their work. It would be very well to adopt as part of the platform of the Convention, the excellent resolutions passed in Douglas county, which contain vital truths, that ought to be respected, if the people wish to hinder a party from becoming the mere agent of office holders. The fact of their adoption at Roseburg, shows that there was an anxious fear of existing danger, and the frank recognition of their substance by the Convention, would exercise a most wholesome influence in the State. We know that many of the delegates thoroughly approve of them, and we cannot conceive why any honest man should be opposed to them.

Speculation as to the nomination is idle. There are various and strong local interests, which will not be likely to yield freely to their antagonists. There is also reason to suppose, that the present member, for causes which ought not to have great weight, will be supported by some who think their own official life depends on his continuing to remain at Washington. Considerations like these, however, will speedily be evaporated, if the loyal and patriotic members of the Convention, who represent the people, rise to a just sense of the responsibility, of their work, and think rather of finding a competent and faithful man, whom the State needs, than of gratifying the ambition of some weakly politician, who seeks place because he can make it profitable for himself or his friends.

The Half Million More.—It is probable that the recent call of the President for recruits, will soon be fully met, and very shortly we may expect tidings of decisive action at several points. It is fortunate, we believe, for the speedy success of Federal operations, that Gen. Grant occupies the high post, to which he has been assigned, for he will not be inclined to postpone for an hour longer than it is necessary, the most vigorous assault upon the rebel strongholds. The vast army now entrusted to him, composed in a great part of veterans, will cheerfully second his movements. The new call for 500,000 troops was stated to be necessary on account of intelligence from the South, indicating the intention of the rebels to put every available man into the ranks, preparatory to an early aggressive moment. Fierce and mad despair now controls their action, and doubtless we shall soon have convincing and bloody proof of their last infuriated struggle, before they give up all as lost.

Significant and Characteristic The Senate recently voted upon the question of investigating a complaint against the city Railroad in Washington for improper treatment of negroes. Some men can never vote or act justly towards a black man, especially if by so doing their Democratic record is affected. Thirty Senators voted in favor of inquiry, and ten in opposition—among the last, two from Oregon, Richardson, of Illinois, Saulsbury, Powell, and such goodly Union men.

The Newbern, North Carolina, Times says, "It is a remarkable fact, and one vividly illustrating the faithfulness of the Union volunteers in North Carolina, that in the First Regiment there has been but one deserter, and he a Northern man by birth, and not one from the South."

Thanks.—We acknowledge valuable favors received from Hon. J. W. Nesmith. The report of McClan's Military Road is an important addition to any library, even if the only good things in it are the fine views of scenery in the interior.

An Abundant Supply.—Mr. C. Barrett received by the Sierra Nevada, all the Eastern and California papers. He has a new Atlantic Monthly, all the pictorials and more goods for intelligent people than we have room to name.

Speech of Howell Cobb.—Cobb, ex-U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, delivered a speech in Atlanta, Ga., which is reported in the Atlanta Register of January 30th. It concludes as follows:

Your fate is in your own hands. Are you looking forward with a hope which has no resting place in your conviction, and is only flitting through your minds, that perhaps, after all, some foreign interference will come to our rescue to save and preserve us from the enemy? Banish it from your minds; it is a wild and visionary dream; it is a fatal delusion. The sympathy of the world is against you. If you are cowards you will falter and faint when the fact is announced to you: if you are brave men it will arouse in your hearts the spirit of true manhood which you have inherited from your revolutionary fathers and mothers, and make you truer than ever to your country and her cause. Do you look forward with some hope to what has been termed the Conservative element of the North, and expect to be preserved and protected by it from Lincoln's power and dominion? Banish the fatal delusion. Conservatism at the North lies prostrate in the dust. In their mad efforts to take away our liberties they have lost their own. They are as powerless to aid you as they are to protect themselves. You must either submit to Lincoln and Abolitionism, or by your own unaided arm, with the blessing of a kind Providence, win your liberty and your independence. Think not that here is a power at the North to restore to you the Constitution and the Union as they were, even were you prepared to accept it. You must either be freemen, or you must submit to Lincoln, and he has given you his terms. I put the picture before you. Do you stagger before it, or does it arouse within you a new the spirit of resistance; the spirit of freemen, worthy of the ancestry from which we sprung? Look at these things; consider well of them, and let us, with hearts purged and purified with affliction, appeal to Him who alone can give victory and success to our arms.

Kentucky Pro-Slavery Unionism.—There was a lively scene in the House on Monday evening when the Kentucky opposition members all opened their batteries upon Green Clay Smith, because he saw fit to vote for Mr. Colfax as speaker. I wish that every "conservative" Republican in the land could have been present during the debate. If it would not have convinced him of the wretched folly of attempting to get along with slavery in the rebel or even the border States, why it would be good evidence that he was fit for an idiotic asylum. Mallory, Wadsworth, and their colleagues, all with the exception of Smith and Clay, are pro-slavery Unionists. Yet they are ready to join hands with Voorhees and Fernando Wood, at a moment's notice to drive the Republicans from power. They will take all risks of an ignominious peace, and in fact it is what they desire. I find it impossible to believe that these men care much whether Jeff. Davis or Abe Lincoln triumphs in this great contest. Now then, with these facts before the country, how can respectable, conservative gentlemen in the Republican party have any desire to shape the course of the Administration so that these nondescripts shall be pleased? Pro-slavery conservatism has no place outside of the peace party, and now Postmaster General Blair has come out with a strong emancipation speech at Annapolis, there is no excuse for "conservatism" even in the cabinet. I use the word "conservatism" as it is generally understood in our politics. A public man who is now "conservative" is usually either a sneak, a coward, or an apologist for slavery. Generally speaking, it means a man that defends slavery, or, if he is afraid to do that, he opposes all the active men who attack slavery.—Wash. cor. Springfield Republican.

A Sensible Democratic Editor.—Mr. J M. Spellisy, editor of the Universe, a Roman Catholic Democratic paper, says:

"The 5-20 loan is entirely subscribed for. We Democrats, however much and bitterly we are opposed to this Administration, must admit by this fact that the whole country is determined to support the same Administration in carrying on the war, and its efforts to restore the Union, in much of its manner of governing the entire Republic. Let us be just enough to confess the truth. The late elections disappointed the judgments, the desires, and the hopes of many of us; the exhaustion of the 'loan' has confounded us all together. We may carp, but the elections have gone against us, and the loan is entirely taken; that is to say, both the votes and the money of the people sustain Abraham Lincoln in his management of the Republic. Our talk about despotism, the ruin of law, the destruction of the Republic, and all that, are silenced by these two facts."

California and Oregon Mail Letting.—Washington, Feb. 11, 1864.—To relieve any uneasiness which may be felt in our sister State of Oregon concerning the mail contract between Sacramento and Portland, I will say that the Postmaster General had advertised for mail lettings on that route which were so cut up and divided that it was apparent that the whole would be broken up into small sections which would be mere local accommodations, but would fail of keeping intact the daily overland route for the Northern Pacific service. These facts were forcibly presented to the mind of Postmaster General Blair by the Oregon delegation in Congress, and he has agreed to advertise for bids over the route as heretofore, the time schedule being the same as now run on that route by the California Stage Company, which will probably be the only successful bidder this time, as it has stocked the road, and, at considerable sacrifice, carried the mails with great regularity ever since the route has been opened. The Post Office Department has been notified that it cannot expect that a new contract can be obtained at such low figures as those of the present contract, which was based upon coin payments, which are now made in paper.—Cor. Sac. Union.

Wigfall don't like the looks of Rebel Affairs.—Senator Wigfall of Texas, doesn't believe in the wholesale impressment of property that the rebels propose. He said in the rebel Senate, recently, that the Government found itself confronted with the necessity of repudiation or bankruptcy. He repudiated repudiation as follows:

If repudiation is to be the result, he was prepared to lay down his arms and surrender at once, for the loss of liberty would be more tolerable than the loss of honor. If the country is ruined by the incontinent madness of the people, every man of them will be ruined, if it is dishonored they will all share the dishonor. Let the leaders of the people and the Press explain these matters to the people, instead of telling them that they will gain their independence but lose their liberties.

Trembling at Beast Butler.—The rebels are disgusted with Butler. They call him "Beast." They proclaim him outlawed. They offered a price for his head, yet are terribly frightened whenever he comes near enough to give them a chance to take him. Just now, they are shaking in their boots at Wilmington, in anticipation of a visit from him. The Richmond Whig smells mischief there. Butler is coming, it says, and if he takes Wilmington, Charleston falls by a rear attack. Why does Butler persist in making himself so very disagreeable to the Richmond gentry?

That Green Flag

BY THEODORE J. HOLMES, U. S. A.

"There's that d—d green flag again!" is the frequent exclamation of rebel officers and soldiers, as the flag of the Irish regiments appear on the battle-field. Nothing can exceed their dread of a charge from these brave fellows, accompanied as it always is by their peculiar war-yell.—Letter from the Army of the Potomac.

Forward again now the battle,—
Madly strike the serried ranks,
While the ceaseless musket-rattle
Echoes down the river banks.
Hark! Above the deafening clamor
Rings a voice across the plain—
"Hill! The Second Alabama!
There's that d—d Green Flag again!"

Yelling like a thousand devils,—
Sparing neither sex nor youth,
On they come! Woe to the rebels
Doomed to breast that awful tide!
Do you mark how close they rally
As they leap from yonder crest?
Don't you hear the "Boys in Blue!"
Swelling 'round that old green flag?

On, brave Erin! Look! The game
Spreads among the traitor hordes,
As they near the Rappahannock,
Vainly seeking out the fords!
Crowding up like frightened cattle,—
Not a rebel now may lag.—
Dreadful now the dust of battle,—
Dreadful now that old green flag!

On each sunburnt face that passes,
Sits the same determined smile,
Worn so bravely at Manassas
By those sons of Erin's isle.—
Worn at Gettysburg,—Antietam,
Where they hailed the rebel's brag,—
Where the gallant Irish fought 'em,
Under that same old green flag!

O, each weeping Erin's daughter,
As the news go sadly wait,
Watching every field of slaughter,
For a son's or brother's fate,—
Oh your hearts,—the dawn is breaking,
Though the hour may seem to lag,—
Erin's ancient foe is quaking,—
Glory waits your own green flag!

Soon across the broad Atlantic
Shall that dreaded flag of green
March to glory, while the frantic
Millions on its shores are seen,
Welcoming with hearts and voices
From each surf-surrounded crag,
The deliverers of their country,
Bearing on the old green flag!

Yes! The day is swiftly nearing
When upon the old, old sod,
Irishmen will stand for Erin,
Aided by a righteous God!
When the hosts of Secession devils,
Driven from valley, hill and plain,
Shall exclaim, with southern rebels,
"There's that d—d Green Flag again!"

Vancouver Arsenal, March 17, 1864.

News by the Steamer.

A special Washington dispatch to the Post says that nearly 900 pages of testimony in the investigation of affairs of the Navy Department. There is not a particle of evidence yet produced showing that the Department has been mismanaged.

The steamer City of Baltimore, with dates from Liverpool to the 5th and Queenstown to the 7th, has arrived.

A Copenhagen dispatch, dated the night of the 5th, says:

The Austrians had arrived before Duppel, and an attack on that place was shortly expected. Also, that those districts of Schleswig not occupied by the Austrian and Prussian troops had elected members of the Danish Rigsrath.

St. Louis, March 19.—Natchez advices of the 12th say that Gen. Tuttle has been assigned to the command of that post. About 600 of our prisoners are still near Shreveport, Alabama. They comprise the crews of the gunboats captured at Sabine Pass and Porteau, and Gen. Davis's command captured by Morgan. About 300 escaped in the latter part of February, twelve of whom have arrived here.

Guerillas have again appeared at Lake Providence, and are committing shocking barbarities on the negroes and Union people.

"Old Pap" [Price] has assumed command of the Department of the Arkansas, and tells his demoralized ragamuffins that he will soon lead them against their cowardly, boasting foes, retrieve their reverses, reoccupy their territory, and establish in perpetuity their government.

The estimated force of the enemy in the recent fight at Yazoo City, is five thousand with four pieces of artillery. Two stern-wheel steamboats were there, but could render no service without endangering our forces. The Eighth Louisiana (colored) lost eighty killed, wounded and missing. The First Mississippi Cavalry lost fifty, and the One Hundred and Tenth about twenty-five men. Nine out of 18 officers of the Eighth Louisiana were wounded.

New Orleans, March 12.—Considerable activity prevails in military affairs here. Gen. Banks is on the eve of departure for Western Louisiana. His objective point is Alexandria. The fleet of Porter's gunboats has already started for that place. It is expected that rather formidable works of defense will be encountered by the iron-clads, between the mouth of Red river and Alexandria.

It is believed that there is some sort of understanding between Gens. Banks and Steele, by which Western Louisiana and Southern Arkansas will be cleared of rebels.

An order had just been issued by Gen. Banks for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention on the 28th. The Convention meets at New Orleans on the 25th of April. There are to be 150 delegates chosen, as per the census of 1860. New Orleans will have 53 members.

The Picayune, of the 9th says the committee appointed by General Banks to consider the questions connected with calling a State Convention, think the election of delegates out of one hundred and fifty recommended by the Free State General Committee can be had, even though representatives outside the Union lines be invited.

Chattanooga, March 17.—Cheatham's division composed mostly of Tennesseans, is reported to have gone to Dalton and been repulsed by troops from Polk's command. During a recent reconnaissance, the rebels supposing a general attack about to be made on Dalton, sent all their baggage and stores to Resaca. Six thousand Georgia troops employed on duty at the Etowah Iron Works have recently been incorporated with the rebel army.

Washington, March 19.—A bill was introduced yesterday, declaring the mines and minerals in the public lands the property of the Nation, and providing for their taxation. The bill is onerous and detrimental to the interests of California and Nebraska.

Washington, March 17.—This being the birthday of Chief Justice Taney, [of the Supreme Court of the United States,] the Court adjourned in his honor. The Bench and the Bar waited upon him to pay their respects on the 87th anniversary of his birth. He is a wonderful man, and is in possession of all his faculties.

The Senate amendment to the mail bill, repeals the Act of August, 1852, authorizing the conveyance of letters otherwise than by mails, except money letters and accompanying packages. It also refuses to extend prepaid letter postage rates on the Overland route to California to bona fide subscribers to newspapers.

Captain Sawyer, recently returned from Richmond, states that he saw Lieut.-Col. Litchfield, Maj. Cook, Dr. Kingston, and thirty other officers of the negro regiments, in one cell, chained to six negroes. They were fed on corn bread and water, and very little of that.

After a Chief Justice.—Victor Smith, formerly Collector at Puget Sound (W. T.), has filed with the Attorney General of the United States an application for the removal of Chief Justice Hewitt, of Washington Territory. The charges upon which this application is based are that he (Judge Hewitt) has, in several specified instances, decided against the United States in cases brought before him, one of the instances being when he decided in favor of one Stanton, who brought an action against Victor Smith, who had entered upon the claimed premises of Stanton, at Port Angeles. The charge says that Stanton is a disloyal man.—Cor. Sac. Union.

Coming to his Senses.—It is rumored that Stephens, the rebel Vice President, has abandoned the Richmond administration, and all public conduct of the rebellion.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATEST FROM the EAST.

Dates to March 26th.

Great Fire in Japan.

General Albert Pike makes Overtures for an Amnesty.

Gen. Banks takes the Field.

The Committee on the Conduct of the War Exonerates Gen. Meade.

New Overland Postal Arrangements.

Total Number of the Rebel Army 275,000.

Col. Hawkins Surrenders his Command to Forrest.

New York, March 22.—A letter from Japan in the Tribune, reports the burning of 30,000 houses, and 2,000 were war houses in the city of Awaker. One thousand lives were lost. The fire lasted three days.

St. Louis, March 22.—The steamer Spread Eagle sunk at Miller's Landing, Missouri river, sixty miles above its mouth, on Sunday. She was valued at $40,000, and will probably be raised.

New York, March 22.—General Albert Pike has made overtures for an amnesty.

Philadelphia, March 22.—A New Orleans letter says that Gen. Banks took the field on the 8th inst. for Franklin direct. His operating force is composed of 15,000 cavalry and 24 light pieces of artillery. Four brigades of these will sweep across the country into Texas.

Cairo, March 22.—The steamer Fanny sunk below Vicksburg, on the night of the 15th. Her cargo was valued at $25,000, which is a total loss.

New York, March 22.—The English blockade runner Nassau, while attempting to run the blockade on Swance river was run ashore and burned by her crew to prevent her falling into our hands.

The Washington specials say the Senate Pacific Railroad committee had under consideration to-day various schemes for additional legislation. The committee will make such changes in the bill as will insure a speedy commencement of the work.

Gen. Hancock who was to-day before the committee on the conduct of the war, completely vindicated Gen. Meade's conduct at the battle of Gettysburg.

The Postmaster General invites proposals for the purpose of putting the California overland mail service to operation. The schedule increases the speed so that the trips must be made in sixteen days during eight months of the year, and in twenty days during the remainder of the year.

Chicago, March 22.—A statement has just been received exhibiting quotas of the several states under the last call, with all credits deducted and all deficiencies added, shows Illinois is over 12,000 in excess. All the other States are deficient. Pennsylvania is short 78,000, New York 50,000, Ohio 39,000, Indiana 22,000, Massachusetts 20,000; other States from 1,000 to 3,000.

Washington, March 24.—Operations in Virginia will commence much sooner than many supposed. Gen. Grant will waste no time in idle reviews, but as soon as he obtains knowledge of the army, he is to operate in making offensive movements promptly.

Marsh Creek, Pa., March 23.—The shot and shell Foundry of Albright & Trapp was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss 300,000, insured 120,000. It was believed to be the work of an incendiary.

Cairo, March 24.—At 3 o'clock this morning Forrest's advance drove in our pickets south of Union City, Tennessee. Later in the day he destroyed the communication with Columbus, Ky. Our troops have gone out to meet him. Firing was subsequently heard at Columbus in the direction of Union City.

Chicago, March 24.—The third resolution adopted by the Democratic State Convention, at Columbus, is as follows:

Resolved, That we are opposed to the prosecution of a war for the subjugation of States, or for the purpose of depriving them of their sovereignty, or infringing in or impairing their constitutional rights. Being satisfied that its continuance for such object, will in the end prove utterly destructive of our civil liberty, we, therefore, demand immediate inauguration of peace, and that an attempt be made for an honorable settlement of all difficulties, and of restoration of the Union under the Constitution.

New York, March 26.—A special says that the House Naval Committee are preparing a bill to provide for the building of four ocean iron-clad cruisers for the coast. It appropriates from five to seven millions. The Committee of Ways and Means struck out the appropriation on the ground that it would take two years to complete them, and that further naval service does not require that class of vessels.

New York, March 24.—Gold is 157¼.

Dispatches of the 25th say an expedition recently sent into Green county, Va., has returned having captured a large number of horses, mules and three hundred contrabands.

A special Washington dispatch says, the Senate Post Office Committee have introduced a bill providing for the carrying of the mails between the Missouri river and Puget's Sound, California. The bill authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract with the old contractors or other responsible parties, for a daily mail for four years, at an annual sum not exceeding a million of dollars. The time is shortened from twenty to sixteen days.

The House committee on patents yesterday, agreed to hear oral arguments on the seventh day of April, on the subject of extending Goodyear's Vulcanized Patent.

A Baltimore correspondent to the World, gives the following as an exact number of the rebel army on the 20th: The army under Lee, placed in various places in Virginia at 130,000; Department South 70,000; in East Tennessee, under Longstreet, 20,000; Department of the Gulf, under Beauregard, 30,000; at Mobile, under Gens. Maury and Claybourne, 50,000; the Department under Kirby Smith, 15,000. Total number of troops, 275,000.

The Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention have instructed their delegation to vote for Gen. McClellan for President.

The special to the New York Commercial says, propositions are soon to be made in the Senate for the removal of the Naval Academy from Newport, back to the old quarters at Annapolis.

The Post's special says, the Committee on the Conduct of the War find no evidence against General Meade.

Joe Colburn, pugilist, has accepted a challenge from Jim Mace and leaves for England on the first of May.

Washburn, of Illinois, from the House Committee on Commerce reported a bill, which passed, to punish agents or the owners of steamboats who change the names of such vessels in order to deceive the public.

Gen. Pleasanton has been removed from the command of the Cavalry corps and ordered to report to Rosecrans.

Gen. Sickles is ordered to report to Gen. Curtis.

Generals Rickett, Gibbon and Wadsworth have been ordered to report to Gen. Meade, for assignment to command.

Gen. Cadwallader has been relieved to enable him to sit on a Court Martial.

General Grant's first general order prohibits the use of intoxicating liquors by any person when on duty on military railroad service.

The Railroad from Long Bridge to Brandy Station is being stockaded to protect the commissary and quartermasters' Stores, which indicates that the line of approach to Richmond has not been abandoned.

Cairo, March 23.—Colonel Hawkins, in command of Union City, Tenn., surrendered his whole command to Forrest. Our force consisted of 425 cavalry, all armed and equipped; 200 of them were mounted. An insignificant amount of property fell in the enemy's hands. After destroying the Fort, the rebels retreated. Gen. Grierson sent a strong force from Memphis in pursuit. Their force which has been reported at 5,000, is now said not to have exceeded more than one third of that number.

Foreign News.

Sandy Hook, March 23.—The City of Washington from Liverpool on the 9th and Queenstown the 10th has arrived.

In the House of Lords on the 8th, Lord Russell pronounced the Austro-Prussian course unjustifiable. Lord Shaftesbury urged that a British fleet be sent to the Baltic. Lord Russell replied that the Channel Squadron was at home, and could be sent if desirable at the shortest notice. The answer of Denmark, relative to the Conference was expected in a few days. If she assents, negotiations will be continued.

The Austrians have advanced farther into Jutland. The Prussian headquarters were at Mursel, on the frontier.

The Archduke Maximilian continued at Paris. It is understood that a loan cannot be negotiated, until he is established in Mexico.

New York, March 24.—The steamship Saxon from Liverpool on the 12th and Queenstown on the 13th has arrived. Archduke Maximilian was to leave Paris on the 12th or 13th. Napoleon has been particularly attentive to him.

It is rumored that Gen. Bazer will soon be recalled from Mexico, he having accomplished his mission.

London, March 13.—The Archduke Maximilian has arrived at London from Paris.

The Mexican prisoners in France give in their adhesion to Maximillian's Government.

BOILS.

"WE READ THAT ONE OF the surest afflictions that the patient Job was called upon to bear was that of boils, and they have been found to be, from that time to the present, the most troublesome and painful of visitors. We have known instances where individuals were sure to have these eruptions break out upon them once a month at least. They show an impure state of the blood, and that humor of some kind is lurking there, and the exertion of nature is thus forced to the surface of the body to make its appearance in the form of boils. Now, if you do not best set about to purify the system. Do you ask what will do this? We answer, Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. It is curing humors in every form, and there is not a State in the Union where it has not accomplished the most astonishing cures. Messrs. A. J. Fretrill & Co.
Gentlemen:—I feel it a duty I owe to others to let them know the value of your Dr. Wm. Hollis' Balsam for curing of Croup. My little girl, seven years old, had an attack of Croup and came very near dying! I gave her Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam, as directed, which gave relief in a very short time. We have used it in cases of bad cough, with the happiest effect. Benjamin Pitkin, Eighth street, between Main and Sycamore streets. For sale by Druggists everywhere. The Bark Almatia.—The work of dischar[illegible] ing the Almatia, at Abernethy's wharf, [illegible] this city, was finished on Saturday, and sh[illegible] will leave in tow of the steamer John H. Cou[illegible] this morning, for Oak Point, where she [illegible] load with lumber for San Francisco. Th[illegible] Almatia is one of the finest vessels in ou[illegible] waters; she was originally built for the Me[illegible] terranean fruit trade, and is said to hav[illegible] made next to the quickest trip of any sing[illegible] decked square-rigged vessel, from the Atlanti[illegible] cities to San Francisco, coming from Bosto[illegible] in one hundred and eight days. Five yea[illegible] ago she was placed in the China trade, whe[illegible] she received a full and complete armamen[illegible] consisting of muskets, sabres, and cutlasse[illegible] with two guns of 2-inch bore for the rail, an[illegible] two 6-pounders for her deck, all of which ar[illegible] still on the vessel. Her magazine is also [illegible] present filled with all the ammunition neces[illegible] sary for her armory, and should she be ove[illegible] hauled with any hostile intentions, the vesse[illegible] so doing would be apt to get at least a fe[illegible] lots of grape, canister and ball. She goes [illegible] command for sickness as well as death, an[illegible] among her stores is a fine chest of medicines [illegible] with all the tools for surgery, bandages, lint[illegible] &c. Well may the owners of this vessel b[illegible] proud of her; she is [illegible] an ornament to Sa[illegible] Francisco, where such [illegible] are supposed t[illegible] be numerous. Her anchors are lowered and [illegible] by one of Hammatt's patent windlasses, [illegible] with a capstan on the fore-castle, which is a [illegible] superior advantage. She also has patent [illegible] flying top-sails, and all together is a vessel [illegible] worth seeing.

Arrival of the Steamer Nevada.—The [illegible] steamer Nevada, Francis Conner [illegible] arrived at San Francisco on Saturday, March 21st [illegible] at 10 o'clock A. M., and left Portland yes[illegible] terday at 6 P. M. She had a fine passage [illegible] down the river, and crossed Puget's Bay, 30 [illegible] miles, in 3 hours. She had freight for Port[illegible] land, Victoria and Nanaimo, and furnish us with [illegible] the following passengers:

[illegible] Silver, [illegible] and child, Jno [illegible] Mr. Walker and [illegible] E C Sullivan, [illegible] wife and two [illegible] and Morrison [illegible] State that [illegible] to the shop of [illegible] Harrett & [illegible] Smith and wife, [illegible] W. A. Williams, N[illegible] Matthews, C C Buhl, [illegible] Winstock, Jno Ric[illegible] (2 steerage,) and [illegible] Rock, Puget.

Income Tax.—Mr. [illegible] Assessor for the State of Oregon, has favored us with a statement of the amount of Internal Revenue, assessed in the State of Oregon from September 1st, 1862, to December 31st, 1863, which in the aggregate amounts to $[illegible]41 55. Of this sum Multnomah county has paid $23,493 91, leaving the other counties of the State to pay $[illegible] of the whole amount. The Income Tax in the State for the year 1862, is 35,540 22, as will be seen by the following statement:

[illegible]	$576 33
[illegible]	992 36

THE STEAMER MARIA —The steamboat Maria with boats, tackle, apparel and furniture, was sold at auction on Saturday, by A B Richardson, for the U S Marshal A very large crowd was in attendance to witness the ceremony" Marshal Bennett read over the documents authorizing the proceedings, when the Auctioneer mounted the stand, and in his happy style elucidated all the strong points that should induce persons to buy, then went upon his duties Bidding was slow at first, until the price was run up to about $2,000, when it was quite spirited, and after a very lively time, again lagged, and the Auctioneer closed with "sold! to Capt Turnbull, for five thousand and fifty dollars" We understand it is the intention of Capt Turnbull to immediately have her raised, and to use the upper works and machinery in a new boat he has in contemplation, to be built for the Vancouver trade.

A HYDRANT.—Webster defines a hydrant as being a machine with suitable valves, and a spout, by which water is raised and discharged from the main conduit Portland has one, at the corner of Washington and First streets, set up on Saturday last, by the Water Company. This is the first one for our city, and as they are of the metropolitan or [illegible] we expect to witness their adoption generally, soon, at our principal street corners Where water is plenty they are used for fire plugs, and filling street sprinklers But at present we have no use for the latter

COMFORT UNDER ADVERSITY —A "discouraged" individual took up his bed on a log at Vaughn's wharf, yesterday, to enjoy a comfortable snooze, and revive from the stupors occasioned from imbibing too freely He was not permitted much rest, however, from frequent nudgings of a merciless hog DAMPLY! RAINY! WET!—We have enjoyed so much sun shine during the past winter, that the little "mist" we are now having seems like a flood of aqua. Obstinate people, who won't carry umbrellas, get "wet through," when they venture out, and tears firma be gone again to yield to the pressure of dump cloud, and we guess it does rain.

UNION MASS MEETING —There will be a mass meeting of the legal voters of the city of Portland, held at the Court House in this city, on Monday evening, the 28th inst, at 7 o'clock for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the various city offices to be elected on the first Monday of April next. DEPARTURE —The bark Samuel Merritt left for Rainier on Saturday morning, in tow of the steamer Coultiz, where she will load with pile timbers and wood for San Francisco Nothing worth mentioning was taken from Portland

ARRIVAL OF THE COUCH —The steamer John H Couch, Capt Holman, arrived from Astoria at 7 o'clock P M Saturday The barks Industry and Albany had returned to Astoria being unable to cross the Bar, in consequence of rough weather No vessels were in for this port when the Couch left

NEW ARRANGEMENT —In consequence of the rapid increase of scholars in the primary department of the District School, the Directors have deemed it advisable to employ an assistant for Miss King, and this morning Miss Frances Henderson will assume such duties in that School

INTERVENTION.—Every few weeks, when the conviction is becoming settled that foreign intervention is impossible, a hue and cry is raised that England or France has resolved to intervene, and somehow, will you, nil you, bring our National struggle to a close. Notwithstanding these rumors the finest clothing is still supplied by the celebrated Clothiers, Heuston, Hastings & Co, of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter, San Francisco Their goods are fashionable and durable, and consequently their regular customers are continually increasing

Humors of the War.

There is a humorous side even to war, and in our present contest, incidents of an amusing character are continually occurring, though it must be confessed their humor is mostly of the grimmest sort. What, for instance, can be more ludicrously retributive than to see a female teacher from Massachusetts giving the name of John Brown Wise, to a negro child born on the estate of Gov. Wise, of Virginia! This is indeed carrying the war into Africa, but still not content, the zealous female missionary hangs John Brown's picture on the walls of Gov. Wise's house, and then moves on in the Governor's carriage, making it serve her in the transmission of books to the contrabands upon his estate.

Again, just note the delicate irony in the recent correspondence between Gen. Longstreet and Gen. Foster. The rebel commander somewhat sarcastically intimates that it would be more proper to send the President's amnesty proclamation to him, than to circulate it surreptitiously in the rebel camp. Whereupon Foster sends him a number of copies, relying on his character as a gentleman to circulate them! As Longstreet belongs to the class exempted from pardon, the irony of the Federal general's politeness is delightful.

Then there are Gen. Butler's orders, always written in a direct and straightforward style, and not unfrequently marked by a grim sort of humor. See, for instance, the following:

SPECIAL ORDER No. 23.—Charles H. Graham, of Norfolk, having corresponded with the enemy clandestinely by sending a scurrilous letter concerning the Commanding General, and then lying about it in the most solemn manner, by denying the authorship, which he now confesses, having been confined in the guard house until he could tell the truth, is discharged. He would have been punished further had he written upon any other subject.

By command of MAJ. GEN. BUTLER.

Mr. Graham, who was "confined in the guard-house until he could tell the truth," will hardly care to be the subject of another of the General's orders.

The part which woman is playing in this war has its ludicrous as well as its pathetic side. Think of the smuggling that is going on under crinoline! Fancy a dashing young Southern belle attempting to go South through our lines with a pair of cavalry boots dangling against her legs under her skirts. Recent accounts from Memphis, give some funny accounts of female ingenuity and obesity. For instance:

One had on a bolt of the finest linen, adjusted to answer the purpose of a bustle. Her corset was filled with pieces of gold coin, quilted in, to the amount of $1,200. Another had her form well rounded out with padding made of the best dress silk, worth five dollars and upwards per yard. Her hose were found to conceal a quantity of gents' cravats, which were swathed carefully about her legs. The third lady's ample hoops were found to cover a number of yards of broadcloth. Her bust was filled out by a museum of articles, consisting mainly of jewelry, silk, thread, needles and medicines.

Speaking of Southern ladies, here's an anecdote of one which we copy from an army letter written from the Teche country, Louisiana. The young lady in question, the daughter of a planter, was very fascinating in appearance, dressed with much taste and elegance, but chewed tobacco like a trooper:

I asked her if it was the custom here for ladies to chew the weed. She said that many did so before the war, but now they cannot obtain it except at so exorbitant prices, the custom has nearly been dropped. I have seen many of the women of the "poor white trash" who chewed tobacco, but never once before who claimed to have been born and bred a lady. Imagine a beautiful young lady, as she certainly was, seated at a piano, and every few moments compelled to cease her song to clear her mouth of the filthy weed; ball! I think I should prefer not to marry into the family.

HOW THE REBEL CHIEFS TRUST THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE.—The Richmond Whig quotes the Marietta (Ga.) Rebel as saying that the number of troops scattered through the country, seemingly having no direct connection with the army, and of no possible use to it in matters of either offensive or defensive strategy, or in the great hour of battle, is a matter of wonder to every man who travels in any direction through the Confederacy. At almost every railroad station and in every town we find a guard sufficiently large to keep a city in order; while upon every railroad train we have a number of guards, for what valuable purpose or good result no man can tell. In time of peace, before this war superceded the jurisdiction of civil officers, a single constable was considered sufficient to keep the population of a town on their good behavior which now employs a sergeant and a file of soldiers."

Considering the entire and extraordinary "unanimity of the southern people," which we read of so much in English and copperhead journals, is it not somewhat surprising that the rebel leaders so carefully guard the whole of the territory which they still control—is it possible they dare not trust the people? It would seem so to one who had not read so much about southern unanimity and hatred of the Union. Davis now needs all the soldiers he can get; why does he waste half his army in guarding Southern villages and railroads? Is it possible that he is obeyed only because of the bayonets he commands. That would be a military despotism.

A PRACTICAL CONUNDRUM.—"Arrah me darlint," cried James O'Flanigan to his loquacious sweetheart, who had given him no opportunity of answering her remarks during the two hours' ride behind the little bay nags in his oyster wagon—are ye after knowing why yer cheeks are like me ponies there?"

"Sure's, and its because they're red is it?" quoth the blushing Bridget.

"Faith, and a better reason than that, muvourneen. Because there is one of them each side of a waggin' tongue."

CALCUTTA.—It is a received opinion in the best informed circles in England that Calcutta must be abandoned as the seat of Government for India, because it has vitiated atmospheres, emanating from innumerable human and other carcasses, torn to shreds by vultures, floating with every turn of the tide under the drawing-room windows of this city of palaces—where every green park is full of filth—where cesspools, graveyards, dunghcaps, foul drains and open sewers, pollute by percolation the drinking water, and contaminate by deleterious gasses the pure air of heaven.

A half famished fellow in the Southern States tells of a baker (whose loaves had been growing "small by degrees, and beautifully less,") who, when going his rounds to serve his customers, stopped at the door of one and knocked, when the lady within exclaimed—"Who's there?" and was answered "The baker." "What do you want?" "To leave your bread." "Well you need'nt make such a fuss about it—put it through the key hole!"

THE PLOT AGAINST THE EMPEROR.—Except in columns inspired by the French police it is universally admitted that the story of the Italian plot has proved a complete failure. This is not to be imputed as a fault to its authors. These things have their fashions and their chances. Some quite unexpectedly take the public by storm, and others, of perhaps greater merit, fall to the ground neglected. Just now, France, or that portion of it which it was hoped to touch by the story of the Italian conspiracy, is in a very prosaic matter of fact mood. Instead of being astounded at the plot, and excited to delirious protestations of devotion and anger, it put on an incredulous mood, and began to ask inconvenient questions. Under more favorable circumstances the discovery of the conspiracy might have proved a success. But in the present temper of the French, nobody believes that any body would risk his life to kill the Emperor, and nobody wants to hear anything about the business. The French police press, too, understand how much the weakness of the plot to the Government depends on Signor Mazzini's complicity, and accordingly, to this hour, it has not dared to publish his letter. As time goes on, and our knowledge of the facts is increased, we are placed in a better position to appreciate the stories which have been invented for the purpose of implicating the great author of Italian unity in a miserable conspiracy. It will be remembered that it was a part of the story that the plot was planned at Lugano, in Switzerland, where the four men in custody were said to have met Mazzini. But it now results, from inquiries made in Switzerland, that the four men did not arrive at Lugano till the month of November last, and that Mazzini had left Lugano at the beginning of the previous month. Certainly this plot has been intrusted to very clumsy hands.—London Daily News, Jan. 26th.

A BIT OF SARCASM.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, gives the following:

After the exciting debate in the House the other day upon Kentucky politics, had subsided, Mr. Thaddeus Stevens made one of his sarcastic remarks, which caused considerable laughter upon the floor, and since it was printed in the Globe, it has attracted attention outside of Congress. I quote the speech as it is very short:

"Mr. CHAIRMAN: I do not desire to cut off this interesting debate, and I trust nobody will think that I have done so prematurely. I have been very willing to let Kentucky express her sentiments here. She is loyal. She supports the Administration in everything, by voting for every measure for which the Administration asks, unless she deems it unconstitutional. She did so in the last Congress, and for some time she controlled the operations of the war by having the ear of the White House. I am glad that this debate has sprung up, so that the Executive may see how far the gentlemen of Kentucky ought to be consulted; and more particularly the loyal men of Kentucky who stick by their pledges. In order that we may have time to reflect upon the matter, I move that the committee do now rise."

The sting of the remarks consists in the fact that those Kentuck gentlemen who now make open war upon the Administration, and have already nominated Gen. McClellan for the Presidency, are the very men, who a year or two ago were able to influence the Administration in reference to its policy toward the Border States.

A CONTEMPTUOUS WIFE.—Two days after this wedding, Louis went out with his wife to hunt seals. She steered and he took the gun—the way these Indians do. Louis fired at the seals, one after the other, and missed them. His wife then turned the canoe in disgust toward the shore and stepped straight to her father's lodge. After much bother, Louis prevailed upon her to come with him again to hunt, and give him a chance. So she agreed to go again, and on the following day she steered him close to a seal; he fired and missed. She brought him to another; he fired again and missed the second time—She looked (so Louis told his people) just looked—said nothing; but that look made Louis nervous. She brought him to a third seal—close to it—he missed again. She said nothing, but paddled to shore, and then ran to her father's lodge. She says she'll never live with him again. Up to this time, she's kept her word; but they say the priests will make her when she goes to Seven Islands next month—we shall see. I turned to look at Louis's wife. She stood near the place where we were talking—a handsome, determined woman; lips full, but tightly closed; a dark, intelligent eye, which, when it meets yours rests upon you with a tranquil, self-possessed gaze.—Explorations in the Interior of the Labrador Peninsula.

Amativeness.—Big. Stiks put like a hornet's nest. You ought tew be able tew luv the whole human famileo with yure bump at onst. You will never be a widerer long, not enny.

Polytiks.—You have got the natral wa. A splendid bump. It feels like a Dimmokratik bump, too. Menny a man has got to be konstable with half yure bump.

Kombatifness.—Sleightfully verry much. Yu might fite a woman, tuff match. This bumps wants poulticing.

Vitiles.—Bi thunder what a bump! I shud think ye cud eat a hoss and kart, and chase the driver three miles, without enny praktiss. Thunder and Lightening! what a bump! what a bump! Let Barnum get his hand on this bump and yure fortin is made! What a bump! what a bump!

Musik.—A sweet, pretty bump. About the size ov a lima bean. If I had this bump I wud buy me a juice harp and wander among the rocky mountains. Pon my word, Mr. Mulborry, mi advice tew you is tew nuss this bump.

Greenbacks.—Well devoloped. A gorgeous bump. A fortin tew enny man. Yu kant help but die rich, if this bump don't go back on yu. Gorgeous bump! happee man! die when yu feel like it, deth wont have enny sorrows for yure relashuns, that this bump wont heal.

You can stop a clock at any moment, but you cannot stop a witch. The same remark, my brethren, applies to the stopping of the talk of a man and of a woman. He is a great, course, ugly machine, but you can silence him. She is a beautiful, fragile, jewelled thing—but she will run on until she stops herself.
